Return of the Killer Giller dress

Last year, Fine Print host Carolyn Weaver received some flack for wearing what was dubbed her "Killer Giller Dress" at the 10th Anniversary Awards Gala.

This year Weaver is responding to those comments with a dress by the same designer, Montreal's Adam Quang, that reinforces the literary aspect of the Giller Awards.

A group of 23 prominent Canadians were photographed with their favourite Giller short-listed or winning book. These photos make up the dress Weaver will wear tonight at the Giller Awards.

The 2004 Fine Print Giller Awards Special airs Monday at 4 and 10:30 p.m. on Rogers Television.
